Exonet Tips and Tricks # 11

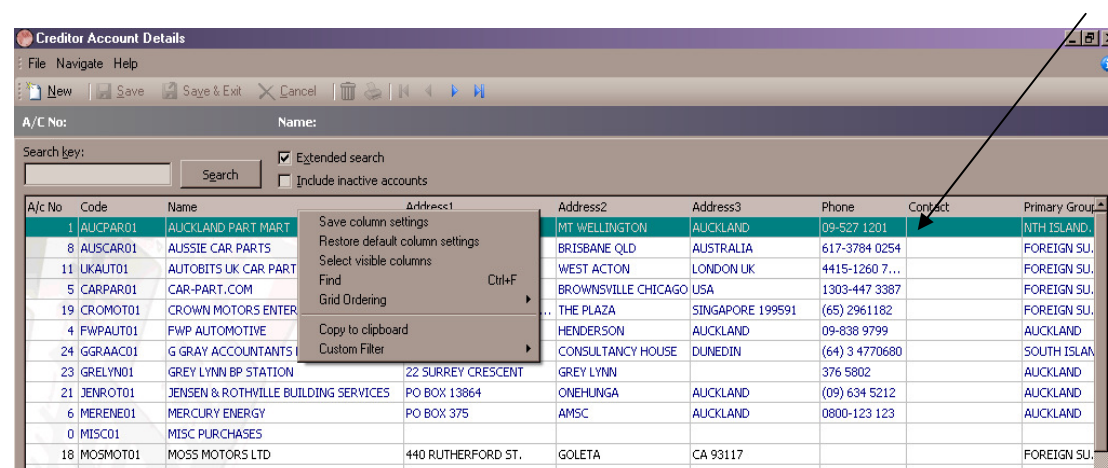

Changing the field order of your Exogrid

Did you know that you can change the order of the fields on your Exogrid screen?

1. Click on the field that you would like to move i.e. Name and a little blue triangle will appear on to the right of the field. You can now move this field either to the left or right as you choose.
2. To save these settings, right click on the Exogrid header bar and several options will appear. Select the 'Save column settings' option.

Extra tip – by clicking on the header of each column you can change the way the information is sorted! Try it out!

Here at Acclaim we offer a Site Maintenance Agreement. The agreement is for the purpose of preventative maintenance and system standardisation and covers the following tasks to be addressed on a monthly basis:

Check backup operation and integrity. Perform trial restoration of data and check backup media.

Checking operation and updates of anti-virus systems on all PC's.

Installation of security updates and patches systematically upon release.

Systematic scans for Spyware and Malware.

Monitoring of system event logs and advising client on potential issues.

Optimising systems for improved performance.

Implementation of general system updates and software upgrades.

Monitoring / maintaining a system-wide approach to standardising software.

Preventative maintenance of both hardware and software on all PC's.

Monthly reporting of system status

You can choose from one of the options we already have, or if you have special requirements one can be arranged to suit your needs. Please don't hesitate to talk to one of the ACCLAIM team today to arrange a plan that suits you best! It gives you the piece of mind knowing someone is checking your System on a regular basis.
